GOD WORKS AT TAYLOR

A number of students and staff members of the Institute were among the 1500 or more persons who attended the final session of the sixteenth annual Youth Conference, held at Taylor University over the week end.

MAIN SPEAKER IS Y.F.C. MAN

The main speaker was Rev. Reinhold A. Barth, a widely known radio preacher and evangelist, who is with Youth for Christ International. His wife, the former Helen Mc Alerney, and a converted "blues" singer, was guest soloist. She has been staff soloist of Radio Station WMBI, Chicago, for more than three years.

Other speakers were Dr. Horace Sprague, pastor of the Central Methodist Church in Evansville, Indiana, and Rev. James Stewart, a missionary to Central Europe. a fearless servant of God in Russia, Mr. Stewart gained the reputation of "the man one sten ahead of Stalin." His messages on the Holy Spirit were a highlight of the whole conference.

B. I. GRADUATES PARTICIPATE

Four B. I. graduates participated in the services, Vernon Petersen ('45) was co-chairman of the conference. Blanchard Amstutz (141) spoke in the Sunday morning sunrise service. Evangeline Witmer ('48) and Paul Grabill ('48) led discussion groups, and sang in the A Capella choir.

Several pastors brought their young people's groups for the week end. Dormitories were very crowded, with as many as thirteen in one room.

It was wonderful to see God working in the hearts of so many young people. Approximately 60 persons accepted Christ as Saviour, and hundreds consecrated their lives to God. "Christ the Answer," the theme of the conference, was emphasized CONTINUED ON PAGE 5

After carrying on both programs for several months, the Sunday broadcast was dropped because the listener response was so much greater for the daily programs. In November 1947 we completed the installation of our own control room with remote control facilities, and since then the programs have originated here on the Dr. Homer Gettle paid for all the broadcasts last year over W.G.L. #### EDOTORIAL

Shakespeare, in his play, "As You Like It," makes a certain character say, "All the world's a stage, and all the people players." Can you picture in your mind the players in these situations -- the Book of Job; a student program; worship in a beautiful church; a drunken party; or a football game? How different they are, not only in action but in purpose! "Folks used to call dramatics "play-acting" and then condemn it." On life's stage there are few scenes which are merely playacting. Here we find reality. There are no rewards given for acting done, either good or bad. The vital realities of life require action which is life itself, and the greatest reward available for this is the "Well done" of the Master. "Life is neither all comedy nor all tragedy." There is a drama of life which can be inspiring, uplifting, and enriching. It was in this scene in the play of life, that Job really found God. May we find Him tool

THAT - if the present trend continues by 1960 there will be one divorce for every two marriages.

WHAT GOES ON BEHIND THE SCENES
"Duz does everything"--so does our efficient B.I. laundry crew.

Step with me into the laundry in the basement of the Ad. Building. First of all, we see tubs and machines. Let's ask Ada Smith, who is our school laundress, what all these machines are used for. This one to the right, she says, is the dryer. But what good does the dryer do if the clothes and linens aren't washed? Oh, here is another odd-looking machine, and to our amazement we find that this one is used to wash the dirty clothes and linens clean. Of course, water and soap must be put in first. Ada is always at hand to tell Warren Wright, Gordon Hirshey, and Lynn Polter just how much of this and that to put into the machine. By the size of the piles of laundry one can well understand why three husky fellows are needed for the job. Yes, when they get through everything is all washed up. Then too the dryer is used for all the clothes and linens except the starched articles.

Things do get a wee bit stiff when Phyllis Jackson is around, and things are made limp when Ruth Joder uses the sprinkler.

Now let us look into the room just across the hall. Young ladies are at work in here. Ruth Gabrielson uses the iron, and she really presses the wrinkles out of the miscellaneous articles. Betty Blosser sees to it that the pillow cases and napkins are smoothed out with the mangle. The tablecloths are made wrinkleless by Phyllis Jackson and Dorcas Lehman, and Dorcas also takes care of the towels, dishcloths, and aprons. Then the articles are neatly folded by Ruth Joder and Jessie Eling, Jessie also sees to it that everything is delivered to the proper building for use again.

The laundry crew all enjoy their work, especially the girls. They talk constantly (so they say) and also study for tests.

Yes, we are thankful for Ada and her helpers who make things clean and smooth each week.

"EVERYTHING'S GOING TO BE ALRIGHT"

In the heart of the Tobacco Belt, near Greensboro, North Carolina, a son was born to a colored minister named Thomas Florence. Proudly the boy was also named Thomas. In that same little community where his father had built and pastored a church, the young lad graduated from a little one-room grammar school, with the honor of having the highest marks in his class.

At the age of ten, during evangelistic services, he went to the altar for five nights in succession. His determination was rewarded, for on the fifth night he received definite assurance in his heart that he was saved.

At the age of seventeen, he heard his father preach on the text, "Abstain from all appearance of evil. And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly." That week he started laying aside everything he knew was wrong, and asked God to give him assurance of His blessing. The very next Sunday morning, during the service, God gave him definite assurance that his prayer was answered.

Tommy says, "It seems as though that was just the beginning of the blessings of the Lord. Since then I have had a close personal relationship with Christ, and He has given me many additional infillings of His Spirit."

The greatest test of his faith came when the Lord permitted him to be drafted into the army, but he continued to trust, through almost four years of army life. He was undecided whether the Lord would approve of his using a gun, but he prayed earnestly about it. He resolved that if he was shown that it was wrong, he would refuse to use one. However, he never had the occasion to use one in combat.

One Sunday, at a camp in Alabama, a sergeant asked him to hold services in the barracks. Some of the soldiers were still sleeping, and one of them later told him, "I haven't been to church in eight years, but this morning I woke up in church." He also preached many sermons overseas, and the Lord gave him many opportunities for personal witnessing.

MY TESTIMONY

Since accepting Jesus Christ as my personal Saviour, I have had a deep peace and joy in my heart and a love for the souls of men. As I look back across the short span of years, it is so wonderful to see how God has manifested His great love and concern for me that I shall never cease praising Him for the way He has guided and directed my life. It all began when my mother's life was providentially taken when I was but nine weeks old. It then became necessary for my father to place me in another home. At the age of eleven months, I was taken out of my Godless home and placed in a foster home, where I was nurtured in the Word of God. During my early years, I learned to know much about Jesus, but it was not until one year ago last January 8 that I received Him as my Saviour.

It takes much to bring some of us to Jesus. That is why, with each passing day, I am convinced more and more that if God had not permitted my eyesight to be taken, just at the time when I was becoming involved more and more in the things of the world, I would not be enjoying the blessing of His Salvation and Sanctification. Therefore, again and again I praise Almighty God for the glorious privilege of losing my physical sight in order to find spiritual vision, which cured the worst blindness of all—the blindness of Sin.

I am very thankful for the three miserable weeks I spent under old-fashioned, Holy Ghost conviction. I was afraid to live and even more afraid to die, for I knew that I had transgressed God's Holy law and was living a life filled with false hope and selfish ambitions. But that night when I saw Jesus on the cross of Calvary, bleeding and dying for me, it was no struggle for me to forsake my radio career, the bright lights and dazzle of theatrical life, and all desires for great fame and fortune. I wanted Jesus more than anything else in the world!

Since that night in January, I have had one deep desire in my heart. That is, to do my best for Jesus. Even though I feel that my very best is so inadequate, considering all He has done for me, I am striving day by day to give my life as unsparingly as I know how, that my life might burn out for Jesus Christ.

The Jubilate Quartet enjoyed their team trip to Adrian, Michigan, with Louis Klotzbach as the speaker. The Quartet had the privilege of attending the Singing School. Iola Perkins seemed to enjoy herself with the quartet. Next week-end they will be singing at the First Missionary Church.

The Word of Life Trio had wonderful services at the Missionary Church in Pandora, Ohio. There were many souls saved and many consecrated their lives to the Lord. Next week-end the Trio will be going to Lima, Ohio with Professors Ira Gerig and Elmer Neuenschwander. They will attend the Youth for Christ on Saturday night and will be at neighboring churches all day Sunday.

The Glad Tidings Trio will be going to the Friends Church in Rockford, Ohio.

Irene Brown played her trumpet at the Nazarene Church here in Fort Wayne Sunday night.

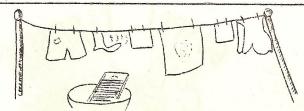

The Covenant Four Quartet will be attending the Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Lima next Sunday. David Van Gorkom will be taking Dean Parkers place.

STABBED IN THE BACK

He had choked her. She was dead. He had listened to her dying gasp. Now she was cold - cold as the hands of death. Yet in his anger he was not convinced. Furiously he kicked her. To his amazement she gasped, spluttered, and then began to hum softly.

"Just a little patience is all it takes, John," remarked his wife from the back seat.

After he returned home, he began to understand why the Lord had permitted him to go into the service, for it was through contacts made there that he learned of Ft. Wayne. Also, the GI bill made it possible for him to attend school.

Tommy stated with a big smile, "The two and a half years spent at Ft. Wayne Bible Institute have been the most wonderful years of my life. Thank God for an institution that has opened its doors to a member of a despised race. When I fixish my schooling, it is my desire to go into full-time Christian work."

"Did you ever see such horrible slides I think that they should require every missionary candidate to take a course in photography."

"I was interested, but now I don't know. Her pictures didn't show much of a need."

Have you ever heard or made comments such as these? Well, we have the answer. the B.I. Camera Club!

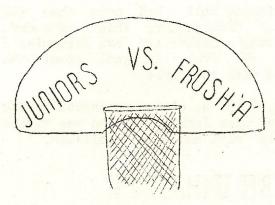

One of the main purposes for .. the ... organization of the Camera Club was to provide an opportunity for prospective missicnaries to learn the techniques of good But it is not only the photography. missionary students who benefit from the Club--all Christian workers can use photography. Home mission work can be effectively, portrayed through good photography. Ministers can use photography for advertising, for creating interest in projects, etc. So, why not know how to use a camera effectively? The Club's aim is to produce good photographers who know how to process their own pictures.

And it's not only the members who be-Did you know that through the Camera Club you can save up to 30% on the purchase of an Eastman Camera? Through the Camera Club you can obtain film at a reduced price. And anytime now you'll be able to get your films developed and printed at a very reasonable rate. In this way the darkroom, which was set up by the Club, will be a money-saver for all. Of course, members receive the greatest benefits, but all are eligible for some of the benefits. Even the BIBLE VISION and the LIGHT TOWER will be able to get their prints cheaper.

Come and visit a meeting some Thursday night. Then you will be able to tell your friends what B.I. is doing to forward the cause of better Christian photography.

G.f.m., through arrangements Dr. Gettle made with the station. We have 7:15 to 7:30 a.m. as sustaining time, and the only fee is for line charge, which is $18.75 per month.

REACHES THREE STATES

"Coverage includes all of northeastern Indiana, some parts of southern Michigan, and western Ohio. The reception is clearer around Indianapolis, Springfield, and Dayton, Ohio. We receive many letters each week from listeners. Here are a few excerpts which we have received recently:

"I listen to the program each a.m. and always receive a blessing from it. Your school is doing a wonderful work."

Columbia City, Indiana
"I still listen to your good sermons, songs, and all. I enjoy everyone so much."

Marion, Indiana
"We do enjoy listening to your a.m. broadcast—the fine music, poetry, and messages which are do helpful."

Pandora, Ohio AIM AND PERSONNEL

"What is the aim of YOUR SUNRISE CHAP-EL and who makes up the personnel?"

"In YOUR SUNRISE CHAPEL we try to present an integrated devotional program with hymns, Scripture or poem, and message all correlated about a single theme. The first step is for the speaker of the week, who would be either Dean Gerig, Mrs. Fitch, Mr. Neuenschwander, or myself to choose the subjects for the week together with the related Scripture or poem. The music is built about the message. There are three ensemble directors, Professor Ira Gerig, Gerald Gerig, and Professor Steiner, who have charge of the music. June Swaback is program director. Copies of scripts for a week go to the song director, program director, and Miss Zeller, who has charge of Scripture readings. Eugene Ponchot is radio engineer and Harlan Wright announcer."

"Thank you, Mr. Witmer." Now I'm sure each one of us can appreciate the program more as we listen every morning."

Did you ever leave the dining hall after supper and hear, "Wasn't that interesting!" or "I thought those devotions were a little boring!"? I thought it would be interesting to know what the students like best for supper devotions. Here are the answers of tentof our students:

Miriam Wiederkehr-I like singspirations best.

Marilyn Wiederkehr—The same as Miriam (that's twins for you!). I like test—imonies, too.

Louis Klotzbach-Ohhh - testimonies.

Pon Young-Oh, I don't know - singspirations, I guess.

Anna Hilbert-I don't like them too lengthy. I think we should have singspiration about once a week, and have students tell how they were led to the Institute.

Harold Lehman-The devotional type-reading scripture and prayer by the teacher in charge of supper.

Christine Steiner—I'like testimonies and singspirations—having students take part.

Don Nabinger—I like to have students tell how they learned about B. I.— those having rather unusual stories.

Fred Kirkpatrick—Testimony meetings and singspirations.

Leonard Paquay-I like it when everybody takes part - like singspirations and testimonies - as long as they don't call on me.

Many an "open" mind is morely vacant.

THEY WERE ONLY BOYS --- THEY BECAME GIANTS FOR GOD!

A student in Yale College was such an enthusiastic advocate of missions that the faculty expelled him! He was David Brainerd. He became a missionary to the He was David Indians. His diary, published after his death, fell into the hands of an English cobbler who became a "pillar of fire." That was William Carey, who did the great missionary work in India of which the world has not yet seen the end.

Three students held the haystack prayer meeting" during their senior years in college. One declared, "We can do it if we will." The result was that Adoniram Judson went to Burma and translated the entire Bible into Burmese.

A country minister in Scotland prayed earnestly one day that someone would accept Christ during the service. Someone did--but it was only a boy; the boy was Robert Moffat, pioneer missionary to South Africa. Once when he was home on furlough a young student heard him lecture and vowed to go to Africa, too. That student was David Livingstone. Mackay read the story of David Livingstone and, inspired, went to Uganda,

A humble Scotch preacher told the story of Jesus in the simplest fashion; a lad heard and determined to serve in a difficult place. On the way home he knelt by a brook and prayed, "O God, I give myself to mission work, if Thou wilt accept." That boy was James Chalmers, who over a period of twenty-five years, did a mighty work for God in New Guinea. Read I Cor. 1:25-31.

The five "iron-men" did it again! Yes. the Freshman, An squad used only five men to subdue the Seniors 62-32 and rack up their fourth victory in a row, That calls for a playoff with the Sophs on Wednesday, March 23, to decide which team will take the honors that go along with the title of first place this season.

It started out just as a thriller always does, and the Seniors looked like they were out to dump the "A's". The Seniors were riding high behind the 9 6 point effort of Harry Warner to lead at the end of the first quarter, 18-16. But the attack soon bogged down and the "A's" went out in front to stay, 26-23 at the half. The third quarter was strictly a soft touch for the "A" s" as they rolled to a 42-28 margin. They went on in the last period to score 20 points and sew up the ball game, 62-32.

Chuck Williams waited until this last game of the season to turn in his best performance, a sparkling 21 point effort. Jake Markey scored 15 points to cash in a season total of 91 points in six games. second only to the Soph's Bill Pannell's mark of 95 points. Dale Howard wound up with 13 buckets in the contest and Milton Wong plunked in 10. The Seniors were led by Gerald Gerig's sterling 14 point effort, all of them from way out, while Harry Warner hit 12 from the Forward position.

The "A's" hit 28 of 91 field goal attempts and picked up 6 more points in 10 tries at the foul circle. The Seniors only managed to get 13 of 51 tries to connect from the court and only 6 of 14 tries at the charity line. The superb rebounding of Williams, Markey, Howard was the deciding factor of the game.

In our next edition we shall try to present a review and resume of the season that has just been completed, emphasizing largely the team and individual records. If you happen to find the fellows playing behind locked gym doors anytime during the next week, please understand that they are not trying to be snobbish---it's probably a secret practice session that they are having in preparation for that B..I..G .
